

Financial Marketing Analyst

The candidate will assume the role of an entry level Analyst in an established investment management firm working with a variety of commercial real estate related products. The analyst will work with the portfolio managers, asset management and underwriting team to aggregate data for client presentation. Responsibilities will include the following:

- Client and industry reporting
- Assist in producing marketing presentations for existing and prospective clients
- Work with members of the firm to complete and manage distribution of day to day client deliverables, as well as manage adhoc requests from clients
- Support production of communications with clients regarding fund performance, financial statements and reports
- Research and report on market and peer data
- Assist in the organization of annual investor conferences, quarterly meetings and calls

The candidate must be highly quantitative, personable, poised, organized and able to work independently in a fast-paced, results driven atmosphere.

- Undergraduate degree in Accounting, Finance or Economics preferred
- Relevant internship or professional experience in fixed income, commercial backed mortgage securities or real estate desired but not necessary
- Resourceful with strong research capabilities to find or generate data independently
- Excellent written and verbal communication skills
- Team oriented attitude with an ability to work with different functional groups
- Highly efficient, flexible and diligent enough to handle competing priorities and deadlines
- Highly proficient in Excel, Word and Powerpoint

About Torchlight Investors

The firm is an SEC registered investment advisor with over $3.9 billion in assets under management in commercial real estate debt. Since its inception in 1995, the firm has invested over $20 billion in its funds and separate accounts. For additional information please visit www.torchlightinvestors.com.

Please submit resumes to resumes@torchlightinvestors.com

Torchlight Investors is an equal opportunity employer.